7 WHO ARE TE KOROWAI O TE TAI Ō MAROKURA?

We are a group of people standing for local leadership about the use and protection of our marine environment. We have come together to develop a management strategy for our coast. The strategy is a korowai (cloak) for Te Tai Ō Marokura and we are weaving that korowai.

Our vision is a future where the moana (sea) of Kaikōura is richer and healthier. We want it to be used sustainably, providing for the needs of present and future generations. In this vision, people will interact with the sea in ways that care for its mauri (life force). People's activity will be managed to respect the natural connections between living and physical elements and sustain the sea's dynamic ecological balance.

We operate as an incorporated society with the assistance of an independent facilitator. All policy decisions are made by local Kaikōura residents, advised by professional agency support and advisory members.

Te Korowai o Te Tai Ō Marokura literally means the cloak of Te Tai Ō Marokura. Culturally it means to lay the cloak or mantle of Ngāti Kurī over Te Tai Ō Marokura, caring for the seas around Kaikōura.

BACKGROUND

Te Rūnanga o Kaikōura had discussed issues and solutions about our sea and coastline for generations. We needed our community working together to protect our coastline. The Fiordland Guardians' model inspired us. We thought if they can do it, we can too.

People were chosen for Te Korowai: as users of our sea, for their knowledge of the coast, as members of key organisations, and for their interest in the coast.

WHAT IS TE TAI O MAROKURA?

Te Tai o Marokura is the realm of Tangaroa, god of the sea. Tangaroa was the first husband of Papatuanuku (the Earth Mother) before she wed Ranginui (the Sky Father). The fishing harbours and sheltered coastal areas of the eastern coastline of Te Waipounamu were created by Tuterakiwhanoa. He was sent by his grandfather Ranginui to enable human occupation of the lands of Te Waka o Aoraki. These are the lands of Te Waipounamu that formed when the waka navigated by Ranginui's sons ran aground on a hidden reef and turned to stone and earth.

Te Tai o Marokura is an integral part of Ngāti Kuri history and cultural identity. The immense importance of the area historically, culturally and spiritually is as dynamic as its geography and its life forms that depend on it. This is acknowledged in the law as a recorded statement of the relationship between Ngāi Tahu and the Kaikōura coast.

WHY ARE WE DOING THIS?

We have watched our coast being abused and uncared for, not just by visitors but also by some locals, and wanted to do something about it. We want our community to be able to enjoy the bounty of Tangaroa and to make sure that bounty is still there for us and our children who come after us.

WHAT WE ARE CURRENTLY DOING?

Te Korowai is balancing involvement with marine issues of the day with developing a long term strategy to enhance sustainable use and protection of our coast.

We have returned to the table this year refreshed, revitalised and determined to complete our draft strategy by the end of 2010. The purpose of the strategy is to create agreement within Kaikōura, with the management agencies, and with all people connected with this place, on how our community vision will be achieved.

We welcome involvement from any person or organisation with an interest in the future of our coast. We are distributing newsletters via our email distribution list (contact our Secretary with your contact details). The Newsletter will also be available on our website to keep you informed of progress.

We meet every 6 weeks or whenever the need arises to further our vision. Our members are active in all aspects of marine use and protection.
